

Friends of the Arcata Marsh (FOAM) Continues Its Free Lecture Series
at the Arcata Marsh Interpretive Center

Jay Patton
on Earthquakes & Tsunamis
in the Cascadian Subduction Zone

Friday, July 22, 7:30 p.m.

Jay is a lecturer and adjunct professor in the HSU Department of Geology and also in the Science Department at College of the Redwoods. His thesis investigated ancient subsidence and tsunamis in Hookton Slough, Humboldt Bay. Jay's website at www.earthjay.com includes earthquake reports and other information about seismic events.

Seating is limited to the first 65 attendees.
To guarantee a space, call the Interpretive Center at (707) 826-2359.

